International Baking/Baker's Day is celebrated annually on the third Sunday in May as the day for everyone to bake something. This year, it falls on May 17, 2023.

International Baking/Baker's Day is a campaign started by Unilever to promote their margarine products. International baker's Day was celebrated on May 17, but the day is to be celebrated on a Sunday so that people would have time to bake. The day is meant for people to bake something and give it away to show that they care. With this spirit of kind and care BHMCT Semester IV and II Celebrated the International Baking/Baker's Day to demonstrates and strengthen their baking skills.

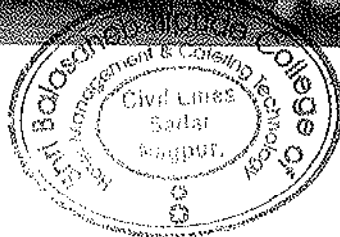

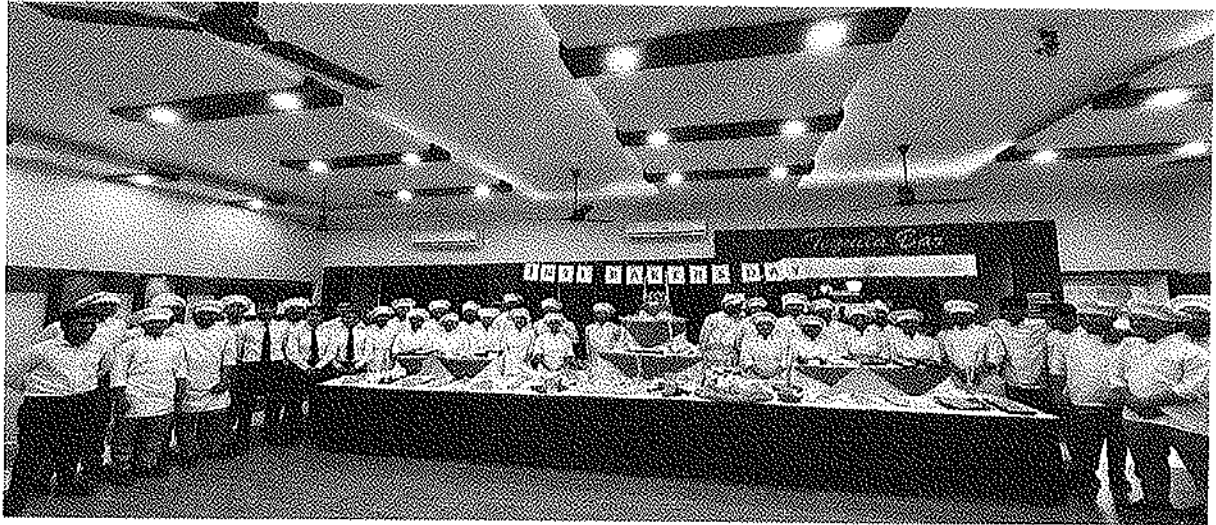

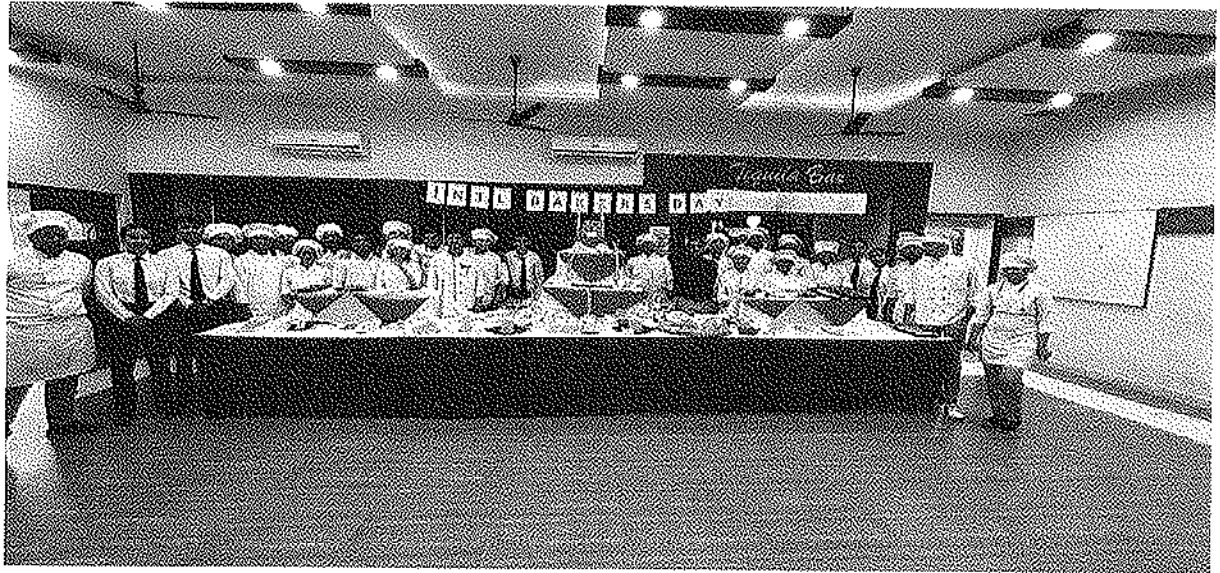

This day was celebrated at Training Restaurant and Bar with large display of various baked goods prepared under the supervision of Chef Yogesh Meshram, Assistant professor of college these baked goods were served to them after the greetings were exchange between all the students, faculties and principal.
